SHARON AMESU

SA Consulting was founded by Sharon Amesu in 2014.

Sharon is a multi-award-winning TEDx Speaker, Executive Coach and Leadership Facilitator. She formerly practiced as a Criminal Barrister for 16 years and now takes the lessons from the Courtroom to help leaders from the Boardroom to the Staff room.

Sharon was an appointed Leadership Facilitator for the Society of Leadership Fellows, St George's House, Windsor Castle and former Branch Chair of the Institute of Directors - the Leading Membership organisation for Board Directors. Sharon has several Non- Executive Director roles. A lifelong learner, Sharon recently completed advanced studies in Executive Coaching with the University of Cambridge.

Sharon has been supporting leaders for many years as an Executive Coach. She works with leaders to lead their teams and organisations with a greater sense of courage, inclusivity and purpose.

As a coach, Sharon believes in the potential for transformation of all her clients and is intentional about working in partnership with her clients to create a safe, non-judgmental space for her clients to think out loud, be challenged in a positive, empowering and supportive way and have the accountability to get results.

Sharon was recognised as a Northern Power Woman and one of the top 5 Pioneering Black People for Manchester, by the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

KEYNOTE TOPICS

The Currency of Trust

According to a recent report by Edelman Trust Barometer, Trust at work is at an all time low. Yet, trust forms the bedrock of any high performing team and organisation. In our newest key note 'The Currency of Trust', we share our proprietary T.R.U.S.T. framework to we equip leaders and managers with the key skills to build or rebuild trust at work and inspire teams to achieve great results...together.

One for All and All for One

The world of business is increasingly complex, uncertain and interconnected. In order to navigate this uncertain terrain, leaders will need to be able to access and engage diverse talent and diverse thinking. The key to achieving this is through leading more inclusively. This keynote will equip leaders with key tools and strategies to lead more inclusively and get the best from their teams.

Stand Up, Speak Up

Poor communication costs organisations, millions each year. When colleagues fail to communicate effectively, it has an impact on staff morale, employee engagement and organisational performance. This keynote will equips audiences with key skills to use their voice to speak with courage and transform team culture.

The Power of Courageous Leadership

Being courageous is essential for leaders in the 21st century. Leaders are leading in complex, ambiguous and uncertain times. How might leaders lead with greater courage and conviction? This keynote will inspire leaders to push past fear and be bold, brave and use their strengths to make a greater impact.

Leading in Terra Ingonita

The ability to face our fears and overcome challenges is a key pillar to professional success. This ability is Courage and it trumps all other traits of effective leadership. It empowers people to tackle challenges and change with greater creativity and innovation. Courage also enables people to communicate their ideas more powerfully and effectively. RECENT TESTIMONIALS

Sharon is inspiring, articulate, insightful and passionate. Sharon was a guest speaker at our Leadership Summit and our Start of the Year Conference. She artfully held her audience with her powerful message and was able to relate to her audience with authenticity. Exceptional!"

Normandie Wragg, CEO Nugent

"Sharon spoke at the launch of our 'Leadership NOW! Housing Programme' and I cannot recommend her highly enough both as a person and excellent public speaker. Sharon's talk was engaging, powerful, informative, inspiring and received incredible feedback from attendees along with a well deserved 'virtual standing ovation' via Zoom. I am so impressed by her ability to understand her audience and tailor the right message to those listening. One of the many positive bits of feedback we had from attendees, included one attendee who said; "I felt like I could move mountains after listening to Sharon!"
